

2006 LORENZO CHARDONNAY

LORENZO VINEYARD

100% RUSSIAN RIVER VALLEY

The Lorenzo vineyard is situated in the cooler western edge of the famed Russian River Valley appellation. The vineyard was planted in 1974-75 by John and Phyllis Bazzano and named after John's grandfather, a first generation Italian American. The soils of this ten acre vineyard contain a high percentage of clay which typically expresses itself in a distinctive minerality.

The winemaking follows our traditional practice: whole cluster pressing, barrel fermentation with indigenous yeasts, full malo-lactic fermentation and extended sur lies aging with lees stirring every two weeks. A gentle isinglass fining to achieve brilliant clarity preceded the bottling in March of 2008.

The distinctive, tightly wound acidity leads to exquisitely focused lemon rind, tangerine and nutty flavors, integrated with sweet, toasty, smoky oak. The 2006 Lorenzo is a wine that will age gracefully and promises to develop more complex aromatics with time in the bottle.
